Jonathan Dayton

With pride our school takes its name from Jonathan Dayton, historic leader and patriot. He was a captain in many Revolutionary battles, including the Battle of Springfield. A signer of the Declaration of Independence, and the youngest member of the Constitutional Convention, he later became state legislator, a United States Congressman and Senator.

Creation of Our School

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School was built to satisfy a need. Prior to its erection six towns, Kenilworth, Garwood, Springfield, Mountainside, Clark, and New Providence, did not have senior high schools of their own. For many years it was necessary for these communities to send their students to neighboring towns. This plan prevented the six communities from managing the secondary schooling of their own students, besides depriving the students of the satisfaction of participating in the life of a school of their own. Since it was impossible to build a separate high school in each of the six towns, the problem was rapidly growing acute. The question arose: "What was to be done?"

A solution to the problem was developed under the active and able leadership of Dr. Arthur L. Johnson, Superintendent of Schools in Union County. Dr. Johnson had early conceived the plan for a regional high school to fulfill the educational needs of our six communities. He and Mr. Halsey, who has since become Supervising Principal of the Regional High School, worked together toward the establishment of the institution which we now have—thanks to their untiring efforts. This thoroughly modern school building was not easily created. It represents the cooperative efforts of many people. It was necessary for Dr. Johnson and Mr. Halsey to explain to the citizens of our six towns the necessity for adopting the Regional High School Plan and the details of its operation. Dr. Johnson first appointed a temporary board of education. This board discussed local problems and considered them in the final decision to adopt the plan.

After the plan was adopted, there still remained an enormous amount of work to be done. There were many people who assisted, and it seems fitting that we mention a few of them. Our representatives in Washington, the Honorable United States Senators A. Harry Moore, Hamilton F. Kean and W. Warren Barbour, together with Congressman Donald H. McLean and Congresswoman Mary Norton, were influential in getting the federal government to approve our loan and grant of funds. Our state officials, the Honorable Senator Charles E. Loizeaux, Assemblymen Thomas Muir, John Kerner and Herbert Pascoe, together with Mr. Edward Whelan, used their power and influence to pass for us some necessary legislation. State Commissioner of Education Charles H. Elliott and Assistant Commissioner Howard D. White gave helpful suggestions on all phases of the project.

Of invaluable service to the Regional Board have been the attorneys, Mr. Norbert Burke and Mr. Henry Nulton, the latter also acting as secretary and district clerk. Mr. Frederick A. Elsasser is responsible for the excellent architecture of the school building. Many of the features that make the building adequate in every detail are due to the ability of this man. We owe a hearty thanks to Mrs. Agnes Flemer and the Springfield Board of Education for their generous gift of almost the entire school grounds. We are fortunate indeed that the location of our school is so very close to the county park grounds. The Union County Park Commission, by way of its secretary, Mr. W. R. Tracy, has cooperated fully with our Regional Board in landscaping these grounds and in offering us the use of their facilities, the football field, the running track, and the skating pond.

We owe a great deal to our Supervising Principal, Mr. Warren W. Halsey, who, besides helping to develop the regional plan, also worked all summer in organizing his educational administration so that we could all commence our school program without any confusion or delay.

The founding of an institution of this type and size must of necessity have had behind it the whole-hearted cooperation of the citizens of our six municipalities. Due to the excellent help of everyone concerned in the project, the formation of our school has become a complete success. We now have at our disposal a thoroughly modern educational institution which completely solves the problem of secondary education for our six towns. Besides simply being a solution to this problem, our Regional High School has advantages of its own. We students are given an opportunity, through the union of our six boroughs, to make a larger circle of friends and to gain a wider viewpoint. Also, our school now provides the type of education most suitable for us students and is so managed that the general welfare of the student body as a whole is the chief consideration. In this way no individual group can be treated as an outsider or be given special privileges; our school is managed and always will be managed in the common interests of the students from the six municipalities which contributed to its erection and now provide for its maintenance.

The Board of Education

Our Board of Education is composed of nine members: Mr. Joseph Mulholland, President, New Providence Township; Mr. John Potts, Vice President, and Mr. James M. Duguid, Springfield; Mr. Merle Patten, Custodian of Moneys, and Mr. John Dushanek, Garwood; Mr. Edward Menerth, Mountainside; Mrs. Kate Shapiro, Clark Township; Mr. Earl Pollack and Mr. Dante Cera, who recently replaced Mr. Louis James, Kenilworth.

They are people who are distinguished in their own communities. Four are business men; one is an engineer, one a mother and civic minded women; two are attorneys.

The successful creation of such a progressive and adequate school as ours is an evidence of the ability, the wisdom, and the devotion of these public-spirited citizens.

In starting this new educational unit the Board was confronted with unusual problems. Many decisions of policy had to be made. The members of the board were called upon by the architect of the building to make numerous decisions.

The equipment is entirely their selection. All of this, of course, necessitated frequent meetings and late hours. There were a great many special committee meetings. Each member has invested a large amount of time and energy.

Nearly all of the members of this Board are also members of their local Boards. This is of great help in correlating the work in the grade schools with that of our high school. Through the devotion of these people our school is closely related to the grade schools in the six supporting communities. The Regional High School is an important unit in a large system of public education. In no sense does it stand alone and apart from its constituent towns. For this fact, for the fine equipment, and for its excellent building, the school is indebted in a large measure to the wisdom and energy of the board members.

The excellent accomplishments of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in its first year are a reflection of the high standards set by the Board of Education.

Memories

Thanks for the memories
Of sunny Saturdays and tricky football plays.
We really got some touchdowns too.
The memory always stays—how lovely it was.

Thanks for the memories
Of the candles all displayed, a student-council made,
That will live on when we are gone.
May its glory never fade—how lovely it was.

We had our moments of pleasure
Along with hardships to be mastered.
Oh well, it was "swell" while it lasted,
And we had fun, but now its done; so

Thanks for the memories
Of basketball at night, where we yelled with all our might;
And a noisy band that had a hand
In making things go right—oh, thank you so much.

Thanks for the memories
Of swell assemblies too, of songs both old and new.
With cheers galore we shouted for
The orange and the blue—how lovely it was.

Thanks for the memories
Of dances, clubs, and plays, and sunny summer days
When everyone had lots of fun
In lots of different ways—how lovely it was.

We had our year's worth of good times,
And we had our year's worth of hard times.
We hope you'll remember us sometimes.
Don't make a fuss, just think of us, and

Thanks for the memories.
We owe it all to you, and now that all is through,
We hope you'll keep the little dreams
You helped us make come true.
We're awfully glad we met you.
Cheerio and toodle-do, and
Thank you so much.

The years have passed, delightful, transient, sweet.
Behind us now they lie — one glorious memory,
'Tis you have made them so complete,
So dear that we shall gaze back wistfully,
That always in our hearts shall live a sigh,
And tears will come when we have said, "Goodbye."
We have learned much: to laugh, be gay,
To follow thoughts more deeply day by day.
There's been so much of joy, of hopes, of fears.
Much of knowledge and of life through these years
We've gained. We did not know you first.
There were others. But this last year you burst
Upon our sight and entered deep into our heart,
And now you've grown a thing apart,
No mere school, but a being with a soul,
With that which makes the perfect whole.
We have a boon to ask of you—
Just this—that the long years through
You'll not forget this class. Please remember
Us, your first born, that first September.
Please keep a place warm in your heart,
So we shall feel we're still a part
Of your great spirit as the time glides by.
Just one more thing to say now, and that—"Goodbye."

Class Chronicle

Early on the morning of September 13, 1937, alarm clocks could be heard ringing in our six towns. Since these clocks hadn't rung all summer, they sounded a trifle rusty, but in the months to come their voices were restored by daily morning practice. In other words, it was the first day of school, and the pupils were to begin a new life together at Jonathan Dayton. "What will it be like?" we wondered.

In the next few weeks we renewed old friendships, made many new ones, and strove manfully to get used to work and routine again. We found that there were plenty of activities to occupy our spare time, and, as seniors, we were very busy joining this and entering that. Somehow, in the midst of this bustle we found time to organize our class and elect John Kulp president, Edward Sigety vice president, June Geiger secretary, and William Titley treasurer. Our faculty advisers were Miss Barrett and Mr. DeMott, and we chose Mr. Poppendieck and Mr. Perlman as sponsors.

Since we have a large and busy school, we felt that there should be a voice for our accomplishments, so we took the lead in establishing the school paper, the "Dayton News." Thus was another feather placed in Regional's cap.

In response to demand and desire, we held an Autumn Dance in December. We hoped it might be a Victory Dance as well, but on Thanksgiving Day, Rahway spoiled that hope. However, it did not spoil the dance.

Ah, but that is not all. Every large group must have organization and discipline. Being a new school we had no precedents or previously-made laws to guide us in school conduct, but had to determine them ourselves. Since Regional is a modern school, student government was logical. Therefore, we sponsored the formation of the Student Council, which drew up the constitution and governed the student body.

In the field of athletics we seniors were also active. Members of our class were outstanding on all the teams, and the rest of the class turned out to cheer them on to victory or to console and support them in defeat.

Lest it be thought that we made no scholastic achievement, let it herein be stated that seniors came out on top in essay contests and shorthand and typing competitions, and were conspicuous on the honor roll.

At the beginning of the year we expressed a desire for a yearbook, so business and editorial staffs were appointed. Contrary to the custom of having just seniors serving on the yearbook staff, juniors were also appointed to act as assistants and to learn the secrets of yearbook making, so they would not have to be trained next year.

About this time our senior drama stars presented "The Night of January 16." This was indeed a success, and will go down in school history as a shining memorial to the Class of '38.

Summer came nearer and nearer, and thoughts of graduation loomed larger. Again departing from custom, it was proposed that the seniors take part in their commencement exercises instead of having an outside speaker warn us that upon us rested the fate of the nation and the future of the world. This suggestion was adopted, and the seniors went to work writing a pageant that would express in graphic form the aims and accomplishments of school life.

Yes, graduation came finally, and the fortunate ones received diplomas, passports to the outside world and jobs.

In looking back we saw that we had come a long way since September and had finished a year crammed with activity and highlighted with achievements. We found merely a building, but we left a smoothly-running, lively organization, a credit to any community. We felt that some small praise was due us for our part in making this possible, as, with sighs and smiles we completed our first, and last year at Jonathan Dayton.

Phrophecy

June 1, 1958

Dear Saul:

Congratulations upon your victorious election! I truly believe that you deserve your title, "Governor Saul Schaffer." Although you are very busy with the affairs of state in New Jersey, I feel certain that you will be as interested as ever to learn about the accomplishments of the Class of 1938. You might show this letter to your two very glamorous secretaries, Charlotte Mueller and June Geiger, as they will surely be glad to learn what has become of their school chums of twenty years ago back in Regional High School.

I don't mind telling you that I was a bit surprised when you told me "Eddie" Sigety was promoted to Chief of the State Police with Adolf Paterson, Bob Lynch, and Eugene Folkman as his three right-hand men. I almost died when I heard from you that Curly Nelson had been made the chief dog catcher in Union County, with his three assistant muzzlers, Leslie Watts, Steve Kulha, and Joe Vincent. I was really delighted when I learned that New Jersey's two Congressmen weren't really men at all but Carolyn Harmon and Jean Fleming. Gosh, and we used to think that the woman's place was in the home! From what you have told me about our old graduating class, I should judge that our women have almost surpassed the men.

Why, just look at those three clothes models, Madelyn Scott, Helen Graczyk, and Mary Conklin. Then again, think of Gladys Fielding, the president of Columbia. Why, we even had professional dancers in our crowd! Clara Graf and Kay Kinney are now featured at the Rialto where Paul Shea and his Rhythm Masters provide the swing. Many of our women have reached the top in the business world, too. Take for example, Edith Shapiro, president of the Bell Telephone Company; Ruth Briggs, the aluminum king, and Lois Cook, the sugar magnate.

Well, to get along with the story I have to tell you, today I saw someone who told me all about quite a few of our old friends. I was on my way home from a matinee performance of that widely acclaimed picture, "One Thousand Kisses" with Dan Maidling, that new screen idol, Virginia Joyce, Xavier Masterson, and a cast of 997. The other picture was a side-splitting comedy with those three funsters, Alexander Metz, Bill Titley, and Wendell Collins. Dick Gutman and Veronica Tomasovic supplied the romantic interest.

I took a taxi home from the movies, and who do you think was driving it? Why Arthur Staehle, the ex-millionnaire, of course! He recognized me at once and answered all my questions concerning people in our Class of '38. Art said that Jack Hay and Harry Richards had remained lady killers for a while but had finally reformed and now were hermits leading a solitary life. Art also told me that George Voelker and John McDonnell were running the big city newspaper down here in the state capital. Their paper is opposed to the political machine built up by John Kulp and Freeman Huntington, those two super politicians.

Art also told me about the president of the American Horseshoe Company, Stanley Roll, the well-known playboy and musician, Phil Thompson, and the stage actresses, Margery Ruggeri, Margaret Staehle, and Margaret Misko. I sadly bade Art good-bye and came into the house where I am now writing this letter.

Our class had great stuff in it, it did. Time will still better prove its worth.

Good-bye and good luck,

A CLASSMATE.

P. S.—Sorry I can't sign my name to this letter, but the G-Men are hot on my trail.

Last Will and Testament

In the name of God, amen; we, the Senior Class of 1938, being of the age of one year, and considering ourselves to be of sound and unreasonable mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament. Since we wish to be remembered long after death as the first and foremost graduating class to depart from this hallowed existence in Regional High School, we bequeath the following:

To the faculty—our gratitude. (Our intellects they would not have.)

To the undergraduates—this beloved faculty, which will, we hope, be none the worse for this year's hard wear.

To the Juniors—an order to maintain all the activities that we have established and to start some of their own.

To the Sophomores—a dance with more profits and less headaches.

To the Freshmen—permission to be out after dark and a warning not to misuse this privilege.

To any in-coming microscopic Freshmen—the height of the Staehle family.

To the staff of the 1939 Regionalogue—the hope that you will profit by our research, mistakes, etc., and advice to buy some good headache powders.

To Mr. Manze—a chemistry class that won't blow up the laboratory.

To Mr. Perlman—another pretty secretary to add to his already long list.

To Mr. Cookman—a manual, "How to Play Basketball in Ten Easy Lessons."

To Miss Dimmers—about 3,000 new books. You Juniors don't want to graduate next year and be as "ignerint" as we are, do you?

To Mr. Poppendieck—a bottle of Kreml with the hope that it isn't too late.

To Mr. Gatti—a book on "How to Raise Children" or "What the Young Father Shouldn't Do."

To Frank Geiger—Don Hall's head bristles.

To Mike Gudor—a license to make love and wisecracks on school time.

To Arthur Albanese—the bashful ways (?) of Leslie Watts and Jack Hay.

To the zoo, where they belong—the idiosyncrasies of Russel Roth and Alexander Metz.

To Pat O'Brien, who certainly needs something to get her out of jams—"Ed" Sigerty's running ability.

To Jack Kennedy—the art of making announcements in the Bill Titley manner.

To the basketball team—we can't give them anything. They already have everything.

Seein' Clubs on Thursday

Well, FAN MY BROW, if it isn't THURSDAY rollin' around and me with my roller skates all shined and just rarin' to go. We're OFF! !

We're approaching the door of Mr. Peterson's Harmonica Rascals. Now will you LOOK at all the girls taking up this instrument. NO WONDER male attendance is so high!

Ladies and Gentlemen, for the future speed demons of our generation, cast your eye on THOSE typists in the Commercial Club. Say, those folks seem to know what they're doin' in that Stenography Club, too, if you're askin' ME!

Which leads us up to the Automobile Club. 'Tch. 'Tch. don't be an Ozzie, folks, and DON'T forget to teach your Pa and Ma how to cross busy streets.

We're about to behold our own Romeos and Juliets in action. Do you want to be an actor? Just notify one of the four Dramatic Club directors. Makin' love on SCHOOL time! Ain't that sumpin? C'mon, we can't stay here ALL day.

My, oh MY, could that be our Journalism Club? Who's getting all steamed up in the front of the room? Just a future reporter, who THINKS he's goin' to be an editor someday.

The Camera and Photoplay Clubs have been keeping everyone jumping, snapping candid Camera shots of us unawares.

The bookworms of the Library Club seem to be enjoying the antics of those spunky orators from the Debating Club.

Just a MINUTE, folkies, we better duck in this fire well a while. Mr. Gatti is on Patrol and thinks its VERY naughty of us chilluns to cut clubs. Oh well, he is gone now. To proceed:

There's that well-known "Slide-rule" Club. SOME FUN! That reminds me. I promised Mr. DeMott I'd master the truths and tricks of that jigger. Foo—tomorrow's another day.

Gosh, we ALMOST passed by the language division. Our future foreign correspondents SEEM awful fluent with that special brand of French they have. And that LATIN group! Don'cha suppose they feel awful self-conscious having SO MUCH brains?

Could THAT be the Girl Reserves? Pretty nice, huh? Which leads us up to the Hostess Club. Your pick for a good cook.

Oh, Oh, careful everyone. We're passing the Science Club. Dr. Jeckyl or Mr. Hyde is LIKELY to fly through that door any minute.

Our Wrestling group is STILL grunting so lets take a roll by. Who is the archer over there, so deftly trying to put her arrow through the flag pole? Oops, she missed, better luck next time.

May I introduce you to Bobby Jones AND COMPANY, please? My mistake. It's our golf club having a lucky day.

There's the Tennis Club and the Horseback Riding Club coming into view on our right. Will THEY be sore tomorrow? Where's the liniment?

But I should talk—I guess I'll have to confess that I'll be using PLENTY myself. You see, these skates are SLIGHTLY crooked—the wrong wheel—or something. Oh shux. What's the use of excuses? Guess I'll try to find my OWN group.

Well, SO LONG! Don't TELL anybody, but I'll be seein' you in club period some other Thursday.

Tennis Club

Scarcely had Spring's first uncertain whisper aroused the willow that "grows aslant the brook" until pulses quickened in the youthful wrists of our little tennis enthusiasts.

With the support and advice of Mr. Perlman, who is an experienced player, a club was formed to develop players and to train candidates for competition. A schedule has been arranged for interscholastic matches—two each—with the following high schools: Linden, Roselle Park, Highland Park, and Roselle. Manager Arthur and Assistant Manager Roth have prepared a call for varsity candidates.

In addition to preparing for a varsity team, the tennis group offers to many inexperienced players an opportunity to improve the quality of their game.

Wrestling Club

PETER BERTOLOTTI, President

MICHAEL VENTRE, Vice President

LESLIE GALLOWAY, Secretary

JOHN MCGEEHAN, Treasurer

MR. BATTAGLIA, Adviser

The number in this club shows the interest that Regional boys have in the strenuous art of wrestling. At club meetings the fellows learned the exciting details of defense and attack; they had a chance, too, to test their strength and cunning. Some did not have after-school time for team competition. Many of the fellows will become candidates for our varsity team in future seasons, but all will be intelligent followers of the sport.

Archery Club

RICHARD LISTER	President	JEAN DeCRESCENZO
WILLIAM GARBER	Vice President	ELLEN BATTAGLIA
HENRY ENGLEHARDT	Secretary	NORMA COOK
ROSS CREE	Treasurer	ANNA KOBRYN
MR. VETTER	Adviser	Miss K. PHILLIPS

As yet these archers have not challenged William Tell, but they're coming. Before attempting anything spectacular they are learning to care for their bows, arrows, arm guards, and shooting tabs. Every archer works to improve his own individual score, and by so doing, to improve that of the team.

The girls' team has entered the State High School tournament.

Golf Club

HOBART CREE, President	TONY GUERRIERO, Secretary
TONY ENGLISH, Vice President	FRANK KOLOJESKY, Treasurer
MR. HAUT	Adviser

This club has been called "a healthy group with a healthy interest in golf." At any rate, the boys have had a chance to be outside developing their "swing," while academic minded groups remained within cloistered walls of learning. When the weather was bad, the club discussed the performances of the popular idols. Student members demonstrated the uses of various clubs.

From this group a school team will be developed.

Clark—Springfield Hi-Y

CLARK HI-Y			SPRINGFIELD HI-Y
JOHN McDONNELL	President		WILLIAM TITLEY
MICHAEL GUDOR	Vice President		GEORGE VOELKER
NATHAN GENESI	Secretary		KENNETH SPRINGLE
ERNEST COOKE	Treasurer		KENNETH GLUTTING
THOMAS TURNBULL	Chaplain		JOHN KULP
MR. HAUT	Adviser		MR. POPPENDIECK

These two newly organized branches of that great nation-wide organization have had a very active and fruitful season. The lively lads from Springfield and Clark have made progress in furthering the purpose of the Hi-Y, namely, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout school and community higher standards of Christian character."

Each club meets weekly, the Clark Hi-Y using the Rahway "Y" pool and the Springfield Hi-Y using the Summit "Y" Pool. At the regular monthly joint meeting, which is held in the school, the clubs take turns in providing interesting programs and guest speakers. The groups have had many educational discussions which have helped the fellows in their everyday problems. The Springfield Hi-Y sponsored a finger printing campaign of the school by the F. B. I. Swimming, games, and athletics are features of all meetings. Every Hi-Y member feels that he has, through his participation in this organization, greatly improved himself physically, mentally and morally.

Automobile Clubs

DOMINICK LUMMINO	President	ALBERT DAVIS
EDWARD SZUBA	Vice President	ROBERT KREUGER
JEAN CAMPANO	Secretary	JEAN ARTHUR
EUGENE COPPOLA	Treasurer	JEAN ARTHUR
MR. LEWIS	Adviser	Miss FULLER

The Automobile Clubs, sponsored by Miss Fuller and Mr. Lewis, should help keep our future citizens out of jails and hospitals. Any student who is over seventeen may learn facts about automobiles, accident prevention, and road maps. He may learn the State Highway laws and the New Jersey regulations for driver's tests. This information is supplemented by Motor Vehicle Department material and visits from New Jersey State Troopers.

French Club

FRENCH I.		SENIOR FRENCH
FRED HUND	President	CAROLYN HARMON
BOB TANSEY	Vice President	RICHARD VAN NEST
INEZ GRANCONETO	Secretary	CHARLES ANDERSON
KENNETH MORICK	Treasurer	ELEANOR ACKERLEY
Miss M. PHILLIPS		Adviser

The members of the French Club enjoy the opportunity actually to use the language. Songs, games and parties a la francaise are the piece de resistance.

Dramatic Club

PAUL SHEA, President

KENNETH SPRINGLE, Vice President

MR. CAMPBELL, Adviser

DOLORES MOWERY, Secretary

ELSIE REHRMAN, Treasurer

These young troupers started the season by reading one-act plays.

"Whose Money" and "Not Quite Such a Goose" were selected. By means of try-outs, a cast was chosen for each play. The actors went to work to prepare for a public performance in May. The other members worked on several projects. They surprised the Wrestling Club with an invitation to a dance. This occasion celebrated the joyous arrival of spring vacation.

Dramatic Club

TERESA MARINELLI, President

MISS JOHNSON, Adviser

MURIEL MOWREY, Secretary

This dramatic group is working on a musical melodrama which they hope to produce jointly with the other dramatic groups for an evening of short plays. They keep in touch with New York shows and plan a theatre party for some time in May.

To fully appreciate theatre productions they will make a rapid study of the works of modern playwrights whose plays are being currently produced. A trip to a New York playhouse is one of their spring hopes.

Dramatic Club

WILLIAM TITLEY, President
LORRAINE DEBUE, Vice President

ANNE WHITE, Secretary-Treasurer
Miss BARRETT, Adviser

Here is a group that believes in "learning by doing." They improve the experience and outlook of their members by having each young "Thespean" read plays and interpret roles. Willing and unafraid, they employ any of the theatrical arts, including pantomime, seasoned with a little daring and plenty of imagination. With a night of one-act plays in view, the club is rehearsing three short plays. Profits will be gladly spent for costumes, scenery, and even theater tickets.

Slide Rule Club

LILLIAN WERNLI, President
FRANK GEIGER, Vice President

EVELYN SIPPELL, Secretary
JACK TOWERS, Treasurer

MR. DEMOTT ..... Adviser

These people are "sliding" something over on the rest of us. While we labor doggedly through long calculations involving multiplication, division, or proportion, these clever clubmen get at the answer by a mere twist of the wrist.

Businessmen, draughtsmen, engineers, estimators, and others find the slide rule invaluable in most of their calculations.

Each member has a rule, and the club has a demonstration rule, over seven feet long.

Hostess Club

LOIS COOK, President

ANNA MASTERSON, Vice President

MISS HEARD ..... Adviser

GERTRUDE MULLINS, Secretary

VIOLET VON BORSTEL, Treasurer

The Hostess Club strives to make "charming hostesses" of its members. With that aim in mind, club time is devoted to discussing and actually practicing such things as social etiquette, various forms of entertaining for one or many guests, and appropriate dress for all occasions. Among the various activities of the club have been a Faculty Tea, a picnic, and several field trips to places selected by the club members.

Harmonica Club

DONALD MAGUIRE, President

MICHAEL LICITRA, Vice President

MR. PETERSON, Adviser

MARY GALVIN, Secretary

PEGGY NELSON, Treasurer

Borrah Minevitch and his Harmonica Rascals could learn a number of surprising tricks from Regional's Harmonica Harmonizers. The strains of the latest popular tunes (Mr. Peterson admits that the strain on him is great.) may be heard at suitable (?) times in the corridors, on the buses, at parties, and wherever good music is appreciated. These musicians have had a good time, and it's predicted that the group will grow.

Latin Club

RICHARD McMANUS, President

LILLIAN FLESHER, Vice President

MRS. MOORE, Adviser

ANNA ROMANO, Secretary

JEAN ADAMS, Treasurer

All work and no play would have made Caesar a dull boy, but no dullard wrote his "Gallic Wars." These Latinists have taken a leaf from his commentary and have combined companionship with campaigns.

At Christmas they dramatized "Victoria Matris" and sang in assembly. Spring brought the Metropolitan Museum and Radio Music Hall. Of course these good Romans transposed the show mentally into immaculate Virgilian verse.

Physical Science Club

EDWARD SIGETY, President

WENDELL COLLINS, Vice President

MR. MANZE, Adviser

KATHRYN GUNN, Secretary

JACK TOWERS, Treasurer

This club is composed of a group of students who want to enrich their classroom knowledge of the physical sciences by a variety of group activities.

Popular Science Magazine proved of great interest to all the members. There were Saturday trips to Plainfield Water Works, Newark Airport, Radio City Museum, and other places of equal interest. At some meetings films were shown and discussed, and individual experiments and demonstrations were conducted.

Senior Girl Reserves

MARY CONKLIN, President
CLARA GRAF, Vice President

MARJORIE GRIMM, Secretary
ELINOR WALTERS, Treasurer

MISS WESTENBURGER ..... Adviser

Girl Reserves stand united in a common purpose, working together in Christian fellowship. The Senior Girl Reserves have pursued their aim during this first year by aiding the poor at Thanksgiving, by helping to sponsor a conference for girls and their mothers, by sponsoring an amateur program in assembly, and by discussing many girls' problems during the club meetings. The girls hope to have a Mother and Daughter Banquet.

Girl Reserve Club

CATHERINE HOAGLAND, President
MARIAN GRIMM, Vice President

GERTRUDE MULLINS, Secretary
JOSEPHINE NIGRO, Treasurer

MISS BRADY ..... Adviser

This group, composed largely of sophomore girls, enjoys fellowship among its members and seeks to help others who are in need. Repairing toys for the poor is one of the projects.

Delegates have been sent to several worthwhile meetings. A mother-and-daughter conference at the Westfield Y. W. C. A. was especially interesting. The Westfield Reserves have been very helpful. This Regional sophomore group is planning an active program for next year.

Girl Reserve Club

GENE BRILL, President

BETTY SORGE, Vice President

RUTH ALBANESE, Council Representative

MIRIAM PARSELL, Secretary

CELIA RUSCANSKY, Treasurer

MISS BOYD, Adviser

The Girl Reserve Club is a junior organization of the Y. W. C. A. founded to help girls in adjusting themselves to modern life, in making choices based upon sound reasoning, and in serving others. This freshman group has distributed Christmas baskets to the needy, has helped to plan a Girl Reserve Conference in Westfield, and has raised money to send a representative to the Summer Conference.

Nature Club

JOSEPH CREE, President

EVELYN FERRY, Secretary

MISS ALLEN, Adviser

MR. COOKMAN, Adviser

The souls of Thoreau, Muir, and other out-door immortals must have been gladdened when the Nature Club was formed. So many students sought membership that the great out-doors itself seemed to be the only place large enough for club meetings. When lectures, pictures, or demonstrations were on the program, as they usually were, everyone managed to get into the biology room. The dramatic quality of life in the bird and animal world has been a subject of absorbing interest.

Debate Club

MARION SMITH, President
ARTHUR BLIWISE, Vice President

CAROLYN HARMON, Secretary
RUSSELL ROTH, Treasurer

MR. PERLMAN, Adviser

The Debating Club, under the able supervision of Mr. Perlman, has been a credit to the school. During the year the debaters participated in inter-club and inter-scholastic debates.

Mr. Earl Pollack, a lawyer from Kenilworth and a member of the Board of Education, addressed the club as a guest speaker. On March 19, Carolyn Harmon, Arthur Bliwise and Doris Keating were guests at Drew University. Carolyn Harmon was one of the guest speakers.

Library Council

THOMAS TURNBULL, President
GLORIA BRODHEAD, Vice President

ELEANOR MEYER, Secretary
MISS DIMMERS, Adviser

The members of the Library Council care for the library in every detail, checking books in and out, and checking attendance. Their work is invaluable, and they feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to become so well acquainted with the library. Such a group provides experience for its members and serves the whole school.

The Council's Faculty Tea was a delightful affair, which, we predict, will long be remembered by the President, who was caught doing a large portion of the dishwashing.

Stenography Club

EUGENE PRINCE, President
MISS KRUMACHER, Adviser

HELEN GRACZYK, Secretary
MADELYN SCOTT, Treasurer

The Stenography Club was organized for the purpose of developing its members into better stenographers. The group is limited to Juniors and Seniors who are ambitious to reach a high level of stenographic skill. From participation in various contests, pins and certificates have been received. Furthermore, at each of the meetings a club prize is awarded to the person who does the best work. To keep in touch with commercial work the group has visited business firms. Of course, a pleasure trip is also scheduled.

Commercial Club

EDITH BIELECKI, President
HELEN SZALKOWSKI, Secretary

EVELYN DAMBRES, Vice President
MISS KAPLAN, Adviser

This club introduces students into the business world. Business methods and filing methods were discussed, and a problem in filing completed. A trip to Breyer's Ice Cream Plant was taken, and several other trips are planned.

For the purpose of creating a commercial museum the club has secured for display such articles as aluminum, lime, chocolate, silk, carborundum, etc. The members expect to make their display shortly and hope that this museum may become a permanent part of the Regional High School.

Community Council

GEORGE VOELKER, President

IRVING STREET, Vice President

MR. DEMOTT ..... Adviser

FREEMAN HUNTINGTON, Secretary

DOROTHY SACHSEL, Treasurer

The Regional High School is fortunate in having an opportunity to participate in organized school government in its first year. The organization is known as the School Community Council, for it is representative of the school community in that the student body, the Parent-Teachers' Association, and other interested groups participate in its work either directly or indirectly.

After a thorough study of the constitutions of many of the successful school governments in the county by the officers of the Council, a constitution for the School Community Council was adopted. Secretary Freeman Huntington's efforts in this respect were noteworthy.

The purpose of this body is to give to students the opportunities of participation in democratic government in order to solve student problems and to develop school spirit and cooperation.

The Council consists of four officers, a representative from the P. T. A., and one representative from each home room.

The first task of school-wide interest which confronted the Council was providing assistance to those Regional students in need. A student aid committee was appointed by the president to cooperate with the faculty committee. Students in need have been helped by monthly student contributions.

The Library Council had the full cooperation of the school government organization in putting across the "Give-a-Book" campaign for the benefit of the school library.

Splendid school spirit and cooperative endeavor have been manifested by the Council in this first year of its and the school's existence. This has been most encouraging. In striving toward greater measures of success, future Councils may build upon a firmer foundation.

Student Patrol

The school recognizes the valuable work that has been done by this organization. Upon each member, each officer, and upon Mr. Manze there has rested an hourly and daily responsibility. The student body has been immeasurably benefited by their faithful and effective service.

The Patrol was originally organized to guide the passing between classes, in halls, and on stairways. Later a Noon Patrol was added to preserve order in the halls at noon, and still later a small Seventh Period Patrol was set up to clear the halls during the early dismissal time.

The members of the Patrol have been instrumental in helping students to set up a desirable standard for hall conduct at all times. Under the control of the Patrol, one-way traffic was established on stairways for safety and rapidity of passage. The presence of the Patrol in the halls allowed the school to fix for itself a very informal, yet controlled passing between classes.

The work of the Noon Patrol deserves high praise. On an assignment that required use of their free time these students helped to preserve order and quiet during the time when students were free for lunch. Since classes were in operation during the lunch period of some students, this regulation of the halls was necessary.

The Seventh Period Patrol, although small in numbers, served to control the clearing of halls after early dismissal and to control the few students who failed to be cooperative in the halls while classes were still in session.

During this first year the Patrol was composed almost entirely of Juniors and Seniors who volunteered for this work. In coming years volunteers will be interviewed before school closes, and the Patrol will begin operating when school opens. Officers are elected by the members of the Patrol. In 1937-38 officers were: Chief, John Kulp; Floor Captains, Wendell Collins, Freeman Huntington, and Paul Shea. Mr. Manze organized and advised all Patrol activities.

The Dayton News presents school news for the interest of the student body and interprets school activities to outside readers.

Our school paper, which began with four mimeographed pages, increased in quantity and quality to six printed sheets published bi-weekly, gives an opportunity to students to try all kinds of journalistic work. Since the paper is printed on our school press, it gives some students opportunities for vocational training.

During the year several contests have been sponsored, namely, a school straw vote on the election of the governor of New Jersey, a popularity football contest, a ballot vote for the yearbook name, and a contest for the writing of our school song.

Only those on a yearbook staff can realize how much work is involved in the creation of an annual.

The creators of this Regionologue have discovered how peculiarly great is the task of preparing a book to record the life of a regional school during the first year of its development.

New organizations, interests, and activities appeared on the scene almost every week in the midst of more than eight hundred students who at the beginning were not acquainted with each other. With no experience in yearbook making and with no basis for an estimate of the size and scope of the proposed book, the staff faced the necessity of surveying and resurveying the "school scene", of estimating and re-estimating book costs, of writing and re-writing the contents of the publication.

The task has provided experiences in advertising, salesmanship, organization, writing and book making—experiences which those who have been most active will not soon forget.

In this enterprise patience has been tested, loyalties proved, and friendship enjoyed.

Forum

FREEMAN HUNTINGTON, President

JUNE GEIGER, Secretary

MR. GATTI, Adviser

In September of 1937 a group of students decided that they would like to get together for the discussion of the vital problems of the day. When it was suggested that such a club be formed under the leadership of Mr. Gatti, social studies teacher, the response was enthusiastic. Hence the Student Forum was organized.

When a formal election of officers was held, Freeman Huntington was chosen as president and June Geiger, secretary. The membership numbered twelve.

The meetings have proven quite successful. Within the circle many informal, friendly meetings have been held, and a number of interesting articles discussed. The club has been fortunate in getting several outside speakers of distinction to come to the school and address the group. They have enjoyed trips to various neighboring schools. On these occasions many Forum groups have mingled to listen to discussions presented by their fellow students.

A spokesman of the club says: "There is a goal before us, a high one. In arousing ourselves to the problems of the day we are endeavoring to become fair-minded, deep-thinking citizens. We are trying to rid ourselves of prejudices, to look always at both sides of a question."

"In this organization we are learning many things that we did not know before. We have attempted to delve into the mysteries of national and foreign affairs. Our studies have included the problems of the slums. We have debated the questions of capital and labor, employer and employee, isolation and international cooperation. In this short year we have become a serious-minded educational unit and have made interesting plans for the future."

Glee Club

This has been the performers' year; next year promises entertainment for everyone. Under Mr. Peterson's able directorship practice has been gained with pleasure, not at pleasure's expense. Formal drills have not crowded out the joyous "Clang of the Forge." Hearts and voices have swelled to romantic "Moonlight and Roses."

In view of the fun and the good fellowship, not to mention the excellent vocal training, which this year's members have gained, it is certain that next year's group will number about fifty students. We can then have a boys' club, a girls' club, and a mixed club, from which we can expect concerts, operettas, and musical revues.

Student Aid

Regional students realize that just as religion should not be limited to Sunday alone, so good sportsmanship should not be looked on only as a part of athletic games. Fair play and school spirit are more than words and more than cheers. Through the Student Aid the student body has very generously and spontaneously shared spending money for the financial assistance of those who need help. On the first Tuesday of each month money is raised through voluntary offering. Funds are used to provide meals and clothes for those who need assistance. The executive committee is composed of Walter Flesher, chairman; Frank Tomchak, Charles Morrison, and Eleanor Barry. Miss Heard is the adviser.

The Orchestra

Many music lovers will agree to the statement that there is no type of musical organization that surpasses an orchestra for sheer enjoyment—enjoyment on the part of the musicians and on the part of listeners.

One aim of the orchestra is to play music better. It is valuable in teaching students to work together as a fine ensemble.

These students are of service to the school in many ways. They give delightful musical programs at assemblies, and upon all special occasions. Parents and teachers are very pleasantly entertained at Parent-Teachers Association meetings.

On March 18 a Musicale was given in cooperation with the band. The formal "Entre de Procession" by Edward Batiste opened the program. The romantic "Blue Danube Waltz" by Johann Straus was a pleasing contrast to this. After this the gayer mood of the audience was captured by "Country Dance", French-Canadian; "Plantation Overture" of Foster-Roberts; "Slavonic Dance" by Sergei Balikov; and "Roll Off" by Lester Bracton. Selections were by the State solo contest winners of 1937. Among them was a tuba solo, "Beelzebub", given by Clinton Gaggion.

Mr. Peterson, leader and director, is to be highly commended for the splendid work of the orchestra this year. We confidently expect great improvement after more time and practice. Ruth Koritsky is concert master, or leader, of the first violin section.

The orchestra's dreams are for a more balanced organization. In the string section more cellos, violins, violas, and basses would improve the balance. They hope for flute, oboe, bassoon, French horn, and tympani talent in the wind and percussion section next year.

The Band

The band added to our enjoyment in winning basketball games and kept spirits up when scores looked gloomy. They helped warm the crowd, both spiritually and physically, at the football games. The resounding strains of "Anchors Aweigh" do not need nautical surroundings for enjoyment. At Parent-Teachers Association meetings they have had a large part in enlivening the programs. They have more than done their bit to make our assembly programs varied and interesting.

In cooperation with the orchestra, a very enjoyable Musicale was given on March 18. Selections given by the entire band were: "140th Infantry March", by F. L. King; "Light Cavalry Overture," by F. Van Suppe; "Victor Herbert's Favorites," Victor Herbert; "The Darktown Strutter's Ball," S. Brook; "Tiger Rag," D. J. LaRocca; "Herald of Progress March," K. L. King. Among the specialties were: "Frolic of the Keys" by Edwin Johrl, a saxophone trio composed of Paul Shea, Jack Lane and Arthur Albanese; and "The Three Solitaires" by Victor Herbert, a cornet trio composed of John Kulp, Wendell Collins, and William Garber.

Mr. Rusette is instructor of band instruments and director of the band. In his absence Wendell Collins is the able student leader.

In spite of the fact that more instruction and practice is needed before the members and director will be satisfied, musical talent of note has been discovered. Clinton Gaggion won the state contest as the best sousaphone player. Wendell Collins is a member of the All-State Band.

The members are already at work making interesting plans for next year. We hope to see them resplendent in orange and blue uniforms.

Cheerleaders

The work of the cheer leaders has this year been particularly important and peculiarly difficult. To present to a new student body a full repertoire of new cheers has been a big undertaking. To weld into a strong cheering unit large groups who have not before cheered together has also been a big job. Nevertheless, the cheer leaders under Miss Kathryn Phillips, have met these first year problems with success.

When the call for cheer leaders was sounded at the beginning of the school year, seventy-five enthusiasts responded. Three faculty members, Messieurs DeMott, Gatti, and Poppendieck, assisted as judges in the eliminating ordeal. By means of a series of tryouts, fifteen leaders were chosen for the work. In view of the fact that none of the members of this selected group have had previous experience, their work and Miss Phillips' coaching are truly worthy of praise.

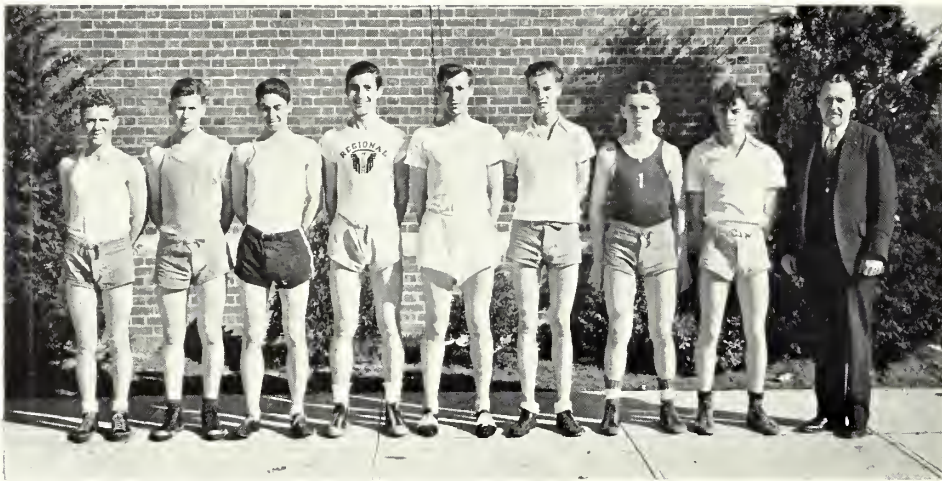

All of the Regional students have had a chance to play a part in making our cheering unique as well as spirited. Everyone was invited to compose "yells." These imaginative and noisy creations were presented to Mr. Peterson and Mr. Poppendieck for selection and final judgment. A goodly number of catchy, rousing cheers were submitted. They revealed the original, rhythmic, and noisy talents of our students. In rapid order the cheer leaders taught the selected yells to the student body. "Hesitation," "Trucking," and the "Team" cheer, have become favorites.

For service at athletic games the cheering captains, Dorothy Sachsel and Frank Geiger, chose two boy and two girl leaders for each occasion.

Out of the cheer-leading squad, five or six will be elected to receive a "letter."

Next year's squad will commence its work without the handicaps of the past season. With a nucleus of experienced leaders a still better machine can be developed. Plans are prepared for a more elaborate program of cheer-leader training. New costumes for the girls will increase the "eye appeal" and the acrobatics will be something to write home about.

Cross Country

The Cross-Country Team with Coach Cookman and Captain Edward Sigety has rounded out a splendid season, meeting all comers in this field of sport. Regional won half the total of merits listed and closed the season with a .500 scoring average. The competition was well planned, including many outstanding high school and academy teams.

The boys trained faithfully. The majority of the runners were Sophomores and Freshmen who had had no previous experience. The success of our first year demonstrates not only the good spirit and faithful work of the team, but it indicates the effectiveness of Mr. Cookman's coaching.

Opening the season on October 22, against Union High, our "harriers" were defeated by a score of 19-37. After traveling to Warinanco Park, Elizabeth, on October 26, to meet a strong Thomas Jefferson (Elizabeth) team, the boys returned to celebrate a well-earned victory, by a count of 25-30. The first three finishers were Regional boys. Again at Warinanco Park the runners triumphed over a well-balanced Hillside outfit with the score of 24-31. In the last dual meet of the season, running against South Side of Newark, our boys lost a heart-breaking contest by the narrow margin of one point, 27-28. In every one of these meets the low score denotes the winner.

Besides these dual meets the Regional "Hill and Dalers" took part in the State Cross-Country meet and the Seton Hall invitation meet to round out a good season.

We hope that next year we may be in a position to invite schools to come to our home field and that our track will prove to be one of the best in New Jersey.

The winning members of the teams are as follows: Edward Sigety, Henry Englehardt, Eugene Folkman, Richard Sachsels, and Henry Cubberly.

Looking into the future, we prophesy a great team for Coach Cookman and his aggregation of young runners.

Football

Opponents	Regional	Opponents	Regional
14 ..... Caldwell	0	7 ..... Suffern	7
6 ..... Highland Park	7	7 ..... St. Mary	0
6 ..... Henry Snyder	0	25 ..... Rahway	0

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Football Team started its first season on the gridiron with a squad of young and inexperienced players. This lack of experience accounts for the rather uneventful nature of the season. The boys were relentlessly drilled in the fundamentals of the game and in important details of gridiron strategy by our most capable football mentor, Coach Brown. The season was opened by a game with Caldwell. Regional lost to this sturdy eleven by a score of 14 to 0.

In the second game we found a heavy and experienced Highland Park Team playing host to our team. By superb co-ordination and most impressive playing, Regional proved to be the superior team.

In the last four games of the season the "Blue and Orange" lost to Henry Snyder, St. Mary's, and Rahway, but tied Suffern, a high ranking football team that "hails" from lower New York State.

Although being seriously handicapped by lack of experience, the season's record was quite good in view of the fact that the students hadn't developed the indispensable and invigorating "School Spirit." Looking forward to the coming year, we see excellent possibilities of a strong team. Assistant Coach Haut, in addition to assisting with the varsity as line coach, will take over the same task with the Junior Varsity next Fall.

Wrestling

Regional High School's wrestling team, under the able coaching of Mr. Battaglia, had a highly successful season. First-year wrestling teams, as a rule, are considered successful even though they have only one or two victories, but Regional's "grapplers" won five out of their nine matches. Their season was good in view of the high calibre of the opposition faced during the regular schedule.

The "grunt and groan" men opened their season in a promising fashion on December 17 by outclassing North Plainfield 26-13. When they went to Teaneck, our boys were vanquished by a score of 5-32. Teaneck was co-champion with Union in 1937. The next encounter was a thrilling match won by the Regional wrestlers over a powerful Thomas Jefferson team by a two-point margin, 19-17. In the remaining six matches the matmen "broke even," losing to Union, a 1937 Co-Champion, by a score of 5-35. Coming back bravely from the Union defeat, they "drubbed" Washington High School to the score of 21-13. Next came Newton, who were "runners-up" for the State wrestling honors in 1937; when the smoke had cleared, Newton's boys were victorious, 13-21.

In the next two matches it was evident that the Regionalites were not at all discouraged by the tussle with Newton. Our matmen went to Somerville for an encounter in which they proved their strength by conquering Somerville 29-11. A return match with North Plainfield resulted in another Regional victory. The score was 24-15. Closing the season against Roselle Park, another powerful team, Regional made a good showing despite the 8-24 score by which we lost. Three of the regular matmen were out with illness during this match, which partly accounts for the one-sided score.

For an inexperienced, first-year group the wrestlers should be highly commended for their spirit, courage, and talent. We are confident that Coach Battaglia will continue to have the success he experienced this season.

The first basketball representatives of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School made a sensational record in their basketball season by winning twenty of their twenty-two games, carrying off the Union County Championship title.

Coach Brown's "Orange and Blue" "Quintet," by displaying a fast passing attack and a clever defense, always managed to make its encounters very interesting and at times highly exciting. Throughout the season their morale and sportsmanship deserved the utmost of praise. They made all engagements ones of friendly rivalry.

In the making of such an outstanding record, the Regional "five" defeated twice the following worthy opponents: Roselle, Roselle Park, Bernardsville, Scotch Plains, Chatham, Highland Park and Rahway. In the scheduled games Union, Somerville and Cranford were each defeated once; while in the County elimination matches Linden, Roselle Park, Plainfield, and Rahway felt defeat at the hands of Regional.

In brief, our first year has been highly exciting and distinctly successful. Our team has put Regional in the basketball spotlight. We confidently expect equally good seasons in the future. The work of Mr. Hohn and the Jay Vee squad has been a valuable contribution to our success. They furnished scrimmage opposition for the "Champions," built future players for the school, and had a successful season of their own, winning 11 out of 18 games.

Every girl attending the Regional High School is a member of the Girls' Athletic Association and is given an opportunity to take part in the intra-mural program.

The aims of the association are: to provide for leadership and sportsmanship, to provide a program to meet varied interests, to provide a program of activities based on individual activity rather than on superior ability, to develop wholesome social contacts.

By means of a cumulative point system every girl has an equal opportunity to earn the award, which consists of the class numerals, the large school letter, and the final award of the small gold pin.

The officers of the Athletic Association for 1937-1938 were elected by the girls of the school.

And Finally

AS you have scanned the preceding pages of this book, dear reader, you have probably come to realize, as I have, that this first year at Regional High School has been a truly momentous one, a year just crammed full with things to do. "Never a dull moment in our young lives," seems to have been the motto of student body and faculty alike. Yes indeed, our school started off right from the beginning with plenty of ability, pep, and enthusiasm. We of the Regionologue staff hope that our small contribution may help you to recall, at some future date, those things which we know you will enjoy remembering. May this written and pictorial record of the first and most eventful year at Regional aid you in your memories of that pleasant and profitable experience.

In reading this book you have no doubt been impressed, much as I myself have been, by the spirit of initiative and action that characterizes our school. You have seen the pictures and word sketches of our first graduating class, which assembled at Regional this last year and which, through its large supply of initiative and co-operation, soon became a real Senior Class, heading for a goal. When you saw so many organizations of all kinds, you no doubt got an accurate idea of the large amount and variety of activity here in school.

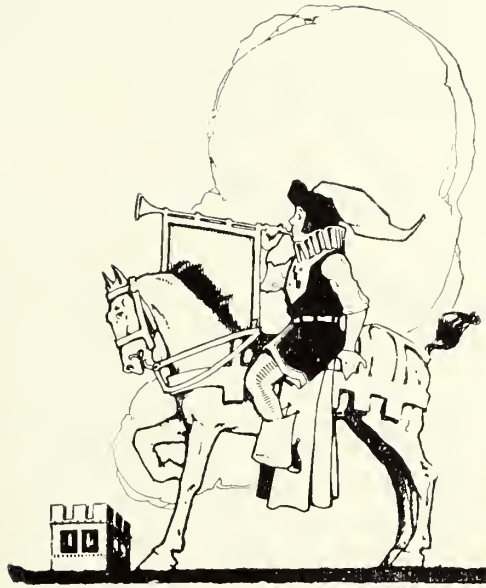

Our athletic teams didn't just play games but instead created very envious reputations for themselves and for the school. Not every school's Yearbook contains a picture of the Union County Basketball Champs! The Dayton News, our very popular school newspaper, has been a tremendous success, and the Regionologue, we hope, has lived up to your expectations.

In our school the air fairly buzzes with activity. All year long our industrious students and faculty members have been forming organizations. They have in this way added still more to the prestige of our school, but, to be honest, they have kept us of the Regionologue staff in a mad whirl. Imagine planning a Yearbook, and then having new clubs spring up every few days saying, "I'm here; put me in your Yearbook." You can readily see what a really big job we undertook when we began writing a Yearbook for a vigorous young school.

I feel, and I'm sure you will agree with me, that the hard-working Regionologue staff deserves the sincere thanks of everyone for the fine piece of work they have turned out. I should like to take this opportunity to thank also those others who deserve appreciation for their help with this book. Our faculty advisers deserve a maximum of praise. Without their unfailing aid and guidance, this publication would have been impossible. Mr. Campbell, by his patient and very able supervision of the literary work, has enabled us to publish a truly high quality Regionologue for you. Mr. Werner, by directing the business end, has succeeded in the difficult job of raising the money for our large book. Mr. Halsey's cooperative spirit has been both encouraging and gratifying. The "Springfield Sun" has very graciously lent us half tones for three excellent pictures which appear near the front of this book. We also owe much to our advertisers, without whose help, so large a book would have been impossible. We have tried to please YOU, the buyers of this book, to whom we owe everything, by giving you the best book we could make.

Finally, I should personally like to take off my hat and bow to anyone and everyone who was in any way connected with the publication of this book. The general spirit of cooperation and good will which has been displayed and which helped us to so great an extent, is truly gratifying and worthy of sincere praise.

JOHN McDONNELL, Editor.

Realizing that the publication of this first Regionologue is due in a large measure to the kind co-operation of the following advertisers, the Senior Class requests that you read the advertisements and patronize these firms.
